A student's report of his experience

Who are you?
My name is Sven Poljak. I come from Berlin and am currently studying Logistics at Wildau, TH-Wildau (college of advanced technology).

How did mlands come to your attention and what are you doing there?
I became aware of ml&s when I visited a career expo in Berlin and that's how I came to the company. I have completed my internship and started with my bachelor thesis.
I did my internship in the field of logistics and learned a lot about transport and forwarding.

What do you like about mlands?
The work climate is very pleasant, and there is always something interesting to do. Student apprentices are fully integrated into the daily work and get involved in various projects. You are entrusted with challenging tasks and responsibilities. Your colleagues treat you as an equal member of staff. All in all, I would highly recommend that students apply for internships with mlands since they give you the chance to prove and improve your skills and learn about new challenges.
